Thank you for our interactive table!

On Wednesday 4th July we were lucky enough to receive a Multi-touch Promethean ActivTable, which has been donated to the school by Securitas, leading provider of protective security services.

We are all very excited by the arrival of the multi-touch table and are queuing up to have a go! The table encourages team work and collaboration, as six children can use it at the same time. Over 230 educational games and activities are installed on the table and will support the school's teaching curriculum.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Securitas for their generosity in donating the table and for Steve Pugh for helping to install it and providing us with some training to ensure that we get the best out of the table.

School Reports

Your child's school report was available to collect from Friday last week. If you haven't already collected it, please call in at the school office before the end of term. Thank you.
